there must be some mistake, as she did not know the geutleman. He, however, loudly insisted that he was an acquaintance, and immediately bogan a series of familiarities, as offensive 'as they were disgusting, to the person whom they were offered. Alarmed at his conduct, and by this time fully aware of the kind of persons she had to deal with, the poor girl flow to her room, followed by the impertinent stranger, who endeavored in a cowardly manner to make up what he wanted in persuasive power, by a brutal exercise of personal violence. She, however, eluded his grasp, flying almost distracted to the street door, found it open, and making her way into the street, her strange appearance attracted the attention of a policeman who was near, and who followed her as she flew along towards the river—approaching which, she threw off her shawl, and was evidently about to plunge into the water, when the policeman arrested her and took her to the Stationhouse, where her past injuries presented themselves between the rind in order and the future looked ly about to plunge into the water, when the policema arrested her and took her to the Stationhouse, where her past injuries presented themselves before her mind in such vivid colors, and the future looked so ominously dark, that it is hardly to be wondered at that her agony of mind should have been so intense as to induce her to seek an end to her miseries by ending life itself. We have already stated the means used by her in her endeavors to put an end to her existence. She was fortunately discovered in time to save her life, and she was taken to the female department of the city prison, where, under the excellent care of the kind matron of that establishment she is doing well; her reason, which was well nigh "unreated" by her troubles, has assumed a natural tone, and it is to be hoped that, with a continued course of kind treatment, she may be saved, and become an ornament to society—at any rate, a respectable member of it. She is only nineteen years of age, and notwithstanding the trials which she has so lately undergone, she looks excedingly well, and added to her personal graces, which are above médicere, she has an intelligent mind. She expresses a desire to have one interview with her seducer. We "would rather him than us." Alderman:Hart, of the Fifth Ward, has the matter under investigation, and if possible, will bring to justice those who have offended against the law in this affair.

Gameling Houses.—In one of my evening strolls, I was induced to visit, from curiosity, one of the fashionable gambling establishments in Park Place. On entering the door, I was ushered up stairs in a brilliantly lighted pair of rooms, in which about thirty persons had assembled. I was introduced to one of the proprietors, and had I not known something of the world, I should have thought above all others I was the most welcomed. On approaching the fare table, I discovered about four classes of individuals. The first were those that were provided with seats near the table, as the most attention is paid them on account of their possessing or commanding money. The second are those that have recently lost their money, and are compeiled to stand back and look on, hoping some new feature in the game will give them a chance. The third are those who are still farther removed, on account of their continued bad luck, and are looked upon as beyond the smiles of fortune. The fourth and last are those whom hope has entirely deserted; these, above all, are to be pitted. It is truly heart rending to see the many wrecks of departed worth and excellence, hovering around the delusive table. Could we depict the misery that these fashionable hells bring upon families, could we see the faithful wife with her little family around her, watching the last expiring embers—waiting with breathless anxiety the return of her once beloved to bring her some news that may gladden her desponding heart! But alsa! disappointment is her lot; she finds that "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick."

Dec. 13.—A Sailor Raising the Wind.—James G. Perry, a sailor on board the North Carolina, was arrested by Prince John Davis, charged by James Bartlett, No. 17 Front street, with stealing a watch valued at $10 and over, under the following circumstances. Jim Perry slept in the same room with Bartlett. Perry, turning out first in the morning, carried off the watch belonging to Bartlett. After searching for Perry some time, he was found by Bartlett, who demanded the watch. "Sh.ver my timbers," said the tar, "I've not got her; she's anchored with Cap ain Richardson, of the Sailor's Home.' Whereupon he handed Bartlett a written order upon Captain Richardson, for the watch. Upon presenting this order, he was then informed that she had been "spouted" for $6.50, for board, the Captain holding the watch until paid. He was also charged by a fair damsel, called Cornelia Leveridge, of No. 34 Mulberry street, where Jim had played the same trick. He slept in herroom all night, and in the morning "towed" off agold chain and pencil case, worth $22; she followed him to the Navy Yard, when Jin handed her an order on the Captain, which met with the same difficulty, having been pledged for board. This manner of "raising the wind," the magistrate thought, was running too long on one tack; therefore he issued a warrant for Jim, who was "pulled," and locked up to answer for the larcenies.

Grand Larceny "Touch."—Moll Wilson, who has only been off the Island three days, was "pulled" last night or "touching" lames L-wen, of Brooklyn, out of $73; however, Mr. Lewen wouldn't toe the mark, to sustain his charge, therefore the Justice discharged Moll, with a reprimand, never to do the like again.

Kures ond Combs.—Two small boys, by the names of Jim Farrell and Jack Barber, were arrested by efficers Parker and Lawrence, charged by Jane Latten with keeping a disorderl behaviour.

Package Lost.—A package containing silk fringes, cord and tassels, valued at $56, taken from on board the steamboat Caledonia, lying at the foot of Warren street. A reward of $20 is offered for the recovery. Apply to Petit Larceny.—William A. Robinson was caught running off with an axe belonging to Andrew Flannagan, 17½ Oak street, worth 50 cents. Committed.

Jitempt to Stab — John Sullivan drew a knife on a Mr. Frail, with intent to stab him. Committed.

Drawing the "Badger."—Jack Batchelor,a tar with an honest looking countenance, just come on shore, and all his wages in his pocket, near $15, was towed into a "orth" at No. 75 Roosevelt street, by an old ship of the line, called Sal Curtis; when Jack feeling bound to make all safe, barred the door before turning in, but to his great surprise on overhauling his wallet in the morning, he found his money had vanished; consequently he had Sal "jerked" up before the Justice, when sho was well "frisked," but finding nothing on her person in the shape of money, sho was suffered to depart.

Cupid the "Knucks"—We understand that the trial of Cupid dias Jim Miller, the pick-pocket and robber of the Clinton barge of $34,000, will commence on Monday—therefore this notor ous thirf is in a fair way of getting his deserts.

Petit Larceny.—Mary Bishop was caught stealing a pair of gaiter boots, also a pair of slippers, valued at $1, from the store of John J. McManus, No. 142 Catherine street.

Temperance.—The Long Island Temperance Convention in relation to the license law, will be held at River Head on Tuesdey next, at 2 o'clock P. M. Belegates from the city of Brooklyn will take the accommodation train at half past nine, A. M.

Infrances Conduct.—A young lady of respectable family and connexions in Brooklyn, was grossly multed on Thursday evening last, in Smith, near Livinsgton street, by a well dressed scoundrel, who was leaning against a tree. On her approach he threw open his clock and most indecently exposed his person, making at the same time some insulting remarks. What a pity some person had not been near at the time with a cowhide, to administer a lesson to the villain who was base enough thus to outrage an unprotected emale.

Unsare.—There are some recently erec'ed buildings is Atlantic street, nearly completed, which rest on times at supported merely by slight iron pillars. In case of fire, these edifices would necessarily be in great danger, as their fronts would inevitably fall on the burning of the wood at the head of the pillars. There are some unfinished houses in Myrtle avenue, belonging to the Rev. E. W. Johnson, which are in a sinsilarly precarious and unsafe condition.

Liberally.—There was collected in "the church of Linemality.—There was collected in "the church of Our Saviour." (Unitatin) last Sabbath morning, $226, for the benefit of the poor. In the report of the "Association for the Relief of the Poor," there is a list of articles received from various societies amounting to seven hundred and seventy pieces, of which number two hundred and fifty-one were contributed by the "Samaritan Society" connected with this church, besides a list of articles received from some of its individual members. In the return of amounts collected by the committee for obtaining subscriptions for the contemplated City Hospital, six hundred out of fourteen hundred dollars was contributed by members of of this society—one of its members having previously given $5000 for this object.

Dodging the Question.—There is a public establishment in Brooklyn, dedicated expressly for balls, assemblies, concerts, lectures, &c., the proprietors or managers of which make great boast that no bar-room, temporary or permanent, is attached to the premises, whilst it is well known that there is scarcely an entertainment given within its walls, which is not attended by some organ of the course of such transactions; or that he is at all privy to their eccurrence.

Accident.—We regret to learn that a step-son of Mr. Joshva Tollord, aged about thirteen years, fell from a wagon in Flatbush, yesterday morning, and broke his leg.

MONEY MARKET. There was a slight advance in quotations to-day. The demand for foreign exchange continues limited, but as Monday is packet day, the principal purchases for remittance will be made on that day. We quote prime bills on London at 8a8\(\frac{1}{2}\) per cent premium. On Paris, \(\delta^2\) for \(\frac{1}{2}\) a\(\frac{1}{2}\) (2\(\frac{1}{2}\); Amsterdam, \(\frac{1}{2}\); a\(\frac{1}{2}\); Hamburg \(\frac{3}{2}\); Bremen, \(\frac{1}{2}\); \(\frac{1}{2}\); There is a very full supply of bills in the market, and there appears to be more confidence.

in the market, and there appears to be more confidence in the market, and there appears to be more confidence in exchange drawn on shipments of cotton than heretofore. If these bills should be generally taken for remittances, the premium would soon become reduced. The reduced importations of foreign manufactures and the increased exportation of domestic merchandise, is rapidly revolutionizing our foreign trade, and the indications at present are in favor of a continuance of a state of things that must lead to an importation of specie. It is very possible that there may be American stocks to some extent sent to this country for sale on foreign account, and that this may reduce the balance in our favor on our export and import trade; but the rates for exexport and import trade; but the rates for exchange rule so low, that the remittances of the proceeds of the sales of these stocks would not be made in specie. We anticipate a very moderate importation of every description of foreign merchandize, paying, under the present tariff act, at a high rate of duty; and even should the present act not be repealed or modified, the check a contemplated change will produce upon our imports, cannot but be of a healthy and valuable cha-thing is reviving, and the banks generally come up as quick as anything else.

The first instalment on the stock of the Provide and Worcester Railroad Company, amounting to $100,000, has been paid in. The construction of this road, will open to this city a very important trade, which has heretofore been attracted to Boston. The Patapsco Bank of Maryland, at Ellicott's Mills, has declared a half yearly dividend of three per cent.

The Governor of Alabama, in his message, says, that in pursuance of the act of the 24th January, 1845, he appointed Robert T. Scott, Esq., agent on part of the State, to collect from the general government the amount due by it to the State of Alabama, for money advanced during the Creek hostilities; but that in consequence of the Federal Government rigidly insisting upon the production of all revolves relative to the late. duction of all vouchers relating to the claim, many of which are lost, he is afraid that the State will lose no inconsiderable pertion of its just dues. On the first of March last, $116,000, being one-half of the two per cent fund, was loaned to the Montgomery and West Point fund, was loaned to the Montgomery and West Point Railroad Company, for which the company gave its bonds with security, which have been temporarily deposited with the Cashier of the State Bank.

In speaking of banking, the message states, that the act of the Legislature putting the State Bank in liquidation, made no provision for the appointment of commissioners to value the real estate owned by that bank, and none have consequently been appointed. The act to settle the affairs of the State Bank, makes it the duty of the president and directors, to sell all the real estate belonging to the bank, within the time prescribed by the act. The Governor has no idea that all of it can be disposed of within that time, and recommends an extension posed of within that time, and recommends an extension of the time. The Governor recommends the collecting of the money due the State from the different banks, as mands that those who have paid one-third of their debts: should be allowed to discharge the residue in two equal annual instalments, and those who have failed to pay one-third, should, upon paying the same with another third with costs, be allowed another year to pay the re mainder; and, also, that the law requiring debts to be presented sgainst the estates of deceased persons, with-in a limited time, so far as the debts due the banks are concerned, as well as the statute of limitations, be re concerned, as well as the statute of limitations, he re pealed. In consequence of the great expenses attend ing the management of the State Bank and branches, he thinks that the appointment of an agent in each agency of the bank, in lieu of a President and Board of Directors, to settle the affairs of the bank, would avoid a great deal of unnecessary expense.

The interest accruing upon the bonds for the State stock in the Mobile Bank, up to the year 1842, was paid, as the Governor understands, from the dividends arising from the stock which the State holds in that bank. Since the period above named, however, the bank has declined declaring dividends, on either individual or State stock. The interest on the bonds, however, has been paid by the bank, and the amount so paid, is now claimed as a debt due from the State to that institution. As to the reasons for thus withholding dividends, or whether such dividends, if declared, would have been sufficient to pay the interest which was due upon the tonds, the Gover. nor is not informed. If it is ascertained that no profits acerued upon the stock held by the State, so that no dividends could be declared, the debt thus claimed of the State, by the bank, is certainly just; and its payment should be promptly provided for by the Legislature. If it be the fact however that the dividends, if declared, would have been ample to pay the interest on the bonds, it will be the duty of the President and directors of that bank to inform the Legislature of their reasons for withholding them, and thus making the payment of the interest on those bonds, a charge upon the State. This demand upon the State was certainly unexpected, and the period appropitious to exact from her the payment of the interest on the bonds, considering her other heavy embarass-ments, and should have been avoided, if the profits arising on the stock had been sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds; but whether the President and directors have acted wisely, and for the interest of the State, as well as the bank, in withholding dividends, is for the General Assembly to determine.

The President and directors of the State Bank have, as equired in the several acts of the Legislature, putting the branch banks in liquidation, destroyed, by burning the present year, bills of the different branches, amount ing to $1,086,355. They have also broken and destroyed the plates of the State Bank and branches, agreeably the provisions of an act to settle the offairs of the State Bank and branches, approved January 25, 1845.

The amount collected under the provisions of the present Revenue Bill, will fail greatly short of raising a sufficient sum to pay the interest accruing upon the State bonds. The Governor recommends that permanent provisions be made by the Legislature to raise by taxation, annually, a sufficient amount to pay the interest on the State debt. It is with very deep regret we announce the death of Mrs. Julia Powell., wife of Colonel John Hare Powell, of Philadelphia. She died very suddenly, and has left a large family of children to deplore the loss of a most affectionate parent. Mrs. Fowell was a native of this city, daughter of the gallant and celebrated Col. Deveau, of the revolution. With a kind and affectionnet disposition, gentle manners, and a highly cultivated mind, she filled a conspicious position in society, in which she was honored and beloved. As a daughter, wife and mother, her example is above all praise. Mrs. P. was intimately connected with some of the oldest and most respected families in New York.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS.

[Correspondence of the New York Herald.] Washington, Friday, Dec. 12
Highly Important News-No War-Pacific Feelings of John Bull-Mr. Pakenham's New Negotiations-Purchase of California! - Change in the

New York Custom House. I wish you would tell brokers in stocks, and humbuggers of every description, who get their living by cheating sucking children out of the dollars their fathers leave them, that we shall have no war with Great Britain-Mr. Packenham has again opened negotiations with Mr. Buchanan.

The ultimatum of the Secretary, which appeared in the Message, had been made to Great Britain in August. It was immediately transmitted to London, and, before the Message appeared, instructions came back to Mr. Pakenham to open negotiations and, before the Message appeared, instructions came back to Mr. Pakenham to open negotiations once more!

The old game of John Bull—bully first, negotiate next, and then fight or cringe! What his new song is, I can't say; but it is absolutely certain that there is now not the slighest prospect of any rupture with Great Britain. It would be worse than putting the halter to her own neck for England to talk even about fighting America, when some millions of her own people are growing wild under the apprehension of famine.

The last gambling operations of Wall street monopolists, are, perhaps, the boldest and clearest proofs of the deep fraud of all the banking establishments of Wall street that have been developed for some time. For many years the Herald had sounded the note of warning, (its only notes that ever go in to that den of thieves, Wallstreet,) and the country has at last discovered that it had some better motive in view than merely making to itself enemies. It is now reduced to a certainty that the whigs are determined to risk all upon monied power.—They will rally round local State banks in '46 as they did around "the mother of them all" under the iron reign of Old Hickory. They have nothing left to cling to but shin-plasters. They have been driven off from every other hold. Protection is exploded in the sense that Mr. Clay has advocated it —no possibility exists of ever having a national bank—a constitutional Treasury must and will be established—the wheels of government must and will be unchained from all money power, and cut adrut, as the banks will be of necessity, from all government patronage—they will make common cause with the whigs, and before Mr. Polk has finished his administration, he will seal the fate of monopolies, and all monned machines, as completely as Gen. Jackson did that of Nic Biddle and his lottery Such are the tendencies of the times, and such is the determination of Col. Polk and every member of his Cabinet! More anon.

Negotiations are opened for the purchase of California, a

Both branches of Congress stand adjourned over till Monday next, and as the House adjournment was predicated on the death of Hon. J. H. Peyton. of Tenn., with the usual resolutions of respect in such cases; the Senate, after petitions on Monday, will, doubtless, adjourn over to Tuesday-leaving the election of chaplain and printer for further consideration, in the interim.

We are apprised of a proposition which will pro bably soon be submitted by Gen. Green, of Texas, to the deliberate reflection of all concerned—a pro-position defining a way for the payment of the debts of Texas, and the creation of a standing fund for the support of her common schools. The plan is, in the main, the same as that of Hon. W. Cost Johnson, for the relief of the States, as nearly as we comprehend it. It will be proposed to surrender the lands of Texas to the General Government, say for eighteen millions of dollars, not to be paid for in money, but millions of dollars, not to be paid for in money, but in bonds upon the Treasury, at an interest of five, or if that cannot be secured, at four per cent. It is expected that ten millions will cover the indebtedness of Texas, leaving the remaining eight millions as a fund for the support of schools from its interest, which, at five per cent, would yield an annual aggregate of four hundred thousand dollars, for the purposes of education.

The material difference between this plan and that of Mr. Cost Johnson is, that while by the former, the State renders a full value received for the money or bonds of the Treasury, the latter proposes to divide the bonds which would accrue from the entire public domain, among the several States, on the basis of their representation; consequently, the larger division of the bonds drawn almost exclusively from the west, would be appropriated to, and distributed among the States of the sea-board, to which the west would never agree, so long as the States in which the public lands are situated, are disposed to demand the unqualified surreuder thereof to themselves as theirs on the score of State rights.
